We are interested in your views on the following.

There is a significant amount of evidence to show that patients who suffer a major trauma have a greater chance of survival and recover better if they are treated within a major trauma network.

The independent panel has looked at the evidence for developing a major trauma network in South and West Wales and South Powys and made the following recommendations:

- A major trauma network for South Wales with a clinical governance infrastructure should be quickly developed
- The adults' and children's major trauma centres should be on the same site
- The major trauma centre should be at University Hospital of Wales, Cardiff
- Morriston Hospital should become a large trauma unit and should have a lead role for the major trauma network
- A clear and realistic timetable for putting the trauma network in place should be set.
